2nd World Congress of Clinical Safety

Internet remote live broadcast

This conference has also 2 live broadcast systems in internet for the remote participants.

(1) For remote audience
  All lectures at the main conference room (including the following remote presentation) are broadcasted on PCs of net audiences in the world by internet streaming.
  Each audience is requested to preinstall a streaming software on the PC with internet.

(2) For remote oral presentation
  A speaker gives the oral presentation using Skype in internet at the PC.
  The live speech with PowerPoint material is projected on the conference room screen, and, also the live lecture is broadcasted on PCs of net audiences by internet streaming
  Each speaker is requested to preinstall SKYPE free software program on their PC with internet, and preset web-microphone and web-camera.

(Note)
Each user of the above live systems should register and prepay the conference registration fee. The fee of the remote participant is 200.00 euro per person. This registration is now available to August 31, 2013

The detail manual of PC operation for the live streaming broadcast is provided after your registration.

Best regards

IARMM Manager
manager@iarmm.org